ROME, Sept. 25 (P)—Canadian forces in the British Eighth Army tonight held a position 2,000 yards beyond the Rimini-Bologna highway, six miles west of Rimini, and were within 1,500 yards of the sea, where they were checked temporarily by fierce German resistance.

Meanwhile Allied Fifth Army troops, smashing beyond the core of the enemy's Gothic Line, were fighting forward less than 12 miles from the Bologna-Rimini highway, main escape route for German forces in the Adriatic sector.

A dispatch from the front said the British airborne units had finally been forced to quit the north end of the bridge after holding it desperately for three days while surrounded.

LONDON, Sept. 25 (P)—Flying bombs came over the east coast during the night to continue the enemy's attack for the tenth straight night.

The missiles arrived from an east-northeasterly direction, indicating that they were launched from German aircraft somewhere in the region of the North Sea.

Raid on Nazi Escape Port Greatest Yet

LONDON, Sept. 25 (P)—The biggest force of R.A.F. Coastal Command Beaufighters ever engaged on a shipping strike tonight attacked a concentration of some 20 enemy vessels in Den Helder, most likely "escape port" for the German forces trapped in Holland by the British Second Army's thrust along the lower Rhine.

Bombers Hit Nazi Plants In Big Raid

LONDON, Sept. 25 (P)—More than 4,000 American planes, including nearly 1,200 heavy bombers, hammered home Gen. Eisenhower's warning today to foreign workers to leave German plants or face the gravest danger.

In the month's heaviest attacks on Reich targets, the heavy bombers dropped nearly 4,000 tons of bombs, ripping apart two large freight yards at Frankfurt.

Nazis Try to Flee

BARI, Italy, Sept. 25 (P)—Big German forces in Macedonia and Greece have at last made the anticipated break for the Albanian Adriatic coastal roads, reports indicated here today.

The movement was immediately challenged by Albanian partisans who made contact with the first of an estimated 12,000 enemy troops massed on the southern border and began a fierce battle on a front stretching 20 to 30 miles through the mountains.

Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds Awarded High Honor

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP)—Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, C.B.E., D.S.C., 41, is worth, Eng., and Kingston, Ont., commander of the 2nd Canadian Corps of the Canadian First Army.

Subsequently he attended gunnery staff course in England and he is a graduate of the staff college at Cambridge, England.

At the start of the war he was appointed to the 1st Canadian Divisional headquarters with the rank of major. In July, 1940, he became officer commanding the 1st Field Regiment, Royal Canadian Artillery, with the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel.

He was in command of the 1st Canadian Division during the Allied invasion of Sicily and throughout the early stages of the Italian campaign, in October, 1943. He was subsequently appointed to command an armored division in Italy, and later assumed the command of the 2nd Canadian Corps and promoted to his present rank.

General Simonds, somewhat of a mystery man until he was announced last month that he was commanding the 2nd Corps in France, drew up the audacious, novel plan which involved entirely new tactics and the application of new equipment for the successful attack by Canadian and British forces which broke through the German defences screening the highway to Falaise. Troops fighting under his corps command carried out the smashing assault.

He conceived the scheme of operating tank columns at night by special direction-keeping methods, including the firing of Bofors tracer shells down the line of advance. Armored attacks in the darkness such as this had not been attempted before in France and probably the last time it was done was in the early days of the desert war in Africa.

He also was responsible for the idea of sending infantry with tank columns in special armored vehicles. The plan called for heavy bombers in close support at night and he figured out a stunt to fire flare shells on targets with artillery to give bombers the correct position.

Graduate of the Royal Military College at Kingston he joined the Royal Canadian Artillery in 1925.

LT.-GEN. GUY SIMONDS

In November, 1940, he was appointed commander of the Canadian Junior War Staff College and from there he was transferred in 1941 to the Second Division as general staff officer. On formation of a Canadian Corps headquarters overseas he was appointed brigadier at corps headquarters.

From August, 1942, until the end of that year, he was commander of the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade in the United Kingdom. Early in April, 1943, he was promoted to the rank of major-general commanding a Canadian division, and on the death of Maj.-Gen. H. L. N. Salmon, in a flying accident in England he assumed command of the 1st Division.

General Simonds was born at Exmouth, England, and came to Canada as a child. His father, Lt.-Col. C. B. Simonds, served with the British Army in the first Great War. His grandfather served in the Indian Army. He spent his boyhood in Victoria, B.C., and attended University School there.

Mrs. Simonds is the former Kathleen Simonds, whose grandfather was the first officer commanding Fort Osborne Barracks, Winnipeg, Man. She is residing in Winnipeg at present, with their two children, Ruth and Charles. Her mother, Mrs. C. M. Taylor, resides at 3605 Beach Drive, Victoria.

Repair Contracts May Be Canceled

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP)—The R.C.A.P. is scheduled to announce within the next two weeks that aircraft repair contracts with civilian firms have been or will be canceled and that repair work will be taken over entirely by R.C.A.P. establishments. It was learned authoritatively tonight.

A Government official in close contact with the aircraft industry said that, with the closing down of several R.C.A.P. training schools and the curtailment of the British Empire Air Training Plan, the R.C.A.P. now found itself in a position to handle all its repair work.

The official was commenting on an announcement that a contract for the repair of R.C.A.P. Canso and Catalina aircraft at the Canadian Pacific Airlines' depot in New Westminster, B.C., had been canceled.

He said similar contracts have been canceled in Halifax and other points in Canada since the R.C.A.P. began curtailing its training programme. The contracts were primarily let to civilian firms so that the R.C.A.P. could devote its full time to the training programme.

One factor which led to the cancellation of the New Westminster contract was the fact that the fleet of Cansos now on the West Coast was to be replaced by an entirely new fleet. This would eliminate the need for any extensive repairs for some time to come.

The official said that a permanent air force likely would be maintained on both coasts after the war and the R.C.A.P. now was planning accordingly.

R.C.A.P. ground crews, who had little to do following the closing of training schools, would be kept busy in the repair establishments. It was true that some civilian employees would be put out of work as a result of the cancellation of contracts, but these workers likely would be absorbed in other industries.

British Security

shillings ($8.10) for the first 13 weeks.

Orphans' allowances of 12 shillings ($2.70) weekly.

Health services for all and special provision for the blind.

Subsistence money for persons taking "approved" training.

SICKNESS AND UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS

The plan proposes the following standard weekly rates for sickness and unemployment benefits:

For a married couple, 40 shillings ($8.70).

For a single man or woman 24 shillings ($5.40).

For boys and girls of 16 and 17 years of age, 15 shillings ($3.37).

Sickness benefits would continue for three years and then be replaced by invalidity benefit of 35 shillings ($7.70) for a married couple and 20 shillings ($4.50) for a single person.

Unemployment benefits would be paid for a limit of 30 weeks continuously, plus additional days with a good record of previous employment.

The cost of the Government's proposal will rise from year to year. From the $2,925,000,000 for the first year it is expected to rise to $3,280,000,000 by ten years later and ultimately to $3,627,000,000 in 1975.

Government actuaries figure on 16 pensioners per 100 contributors in 1945 and 31 pensioners per 100 in 1975.

The actuaries' figures confirm something that had perturbed socialists for a long time—the prospect of Britain's super-anaged people increasing out of proportion to younger ones during the next few decades.

For purposes of the social security plan all of Britain's people would be divided into six categories—employed workers, self-employed workers, housewives, others of working age not earning money, children and greenups above working age.

The main drafters of the Government plan were Lord Woolton, Minister of Reconstruction, Ernest Bevin, Labor Minister, Henry U. Wilson, Minister of Health, and Sir William Jowett, a former attorney-general in a Labor Government.

Another is a little-known professional civil servant—Sir Thomas Herbert Shephard, who was assigned to the job as a specialist in Lord Woolton's ministry.

Commission Candidate

Ald. B. J. Gadden yesterday announced his candidature for the city police commission with the return next December to the elective system for that body.

The present police commission comprises Mayor Andrew McGavin, chairman by virtue of his office, and Aldermen Mrs. M. D. Christie and B. J. Gadden. The commissioners are appointed by the City Council to serve with the mayor.

Earl Pollock, unsuccessful alderman candidate last year, is reported to be contemplating entering the police commission field. He could not be reached last night to confirm or deny the report.

The Fighting Forces

Missing Overseas

F.O. M. WOOD

Who has been listed as missing following operational duties overseas. In the R.C.A.P. since 1940, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hall, 777 Victoria Avenue. Prior to leaving for overseas, he was an instructor at an air station near Ottawa.

Describes France

The experience of witnessing the great Allied air armada at work, of seeing the never-to-be-forgotten sight of vast fleets of bombers pummeling enemy bases and communications, of feeling the air quiver with the unfurling roar and thunder of dropping bombs and giant guns, is that of many Canadians including Capt. J. L. Muirhead, of Victoria.

"If people in the great free American continent could only be allowed, to see these things, to see the bewilderment in the eyes of the old village woman whose home has gone and who shelters herself under a hedge at night," he wrote.

"The novelty of seeing the enemy as a dirty, disheveled prisoner and to note all manner of vehicles with the hated German swastika emblazoned on them causes one to gasp," he added.

Church services at the front, according to Capt. Muirhead, have quite a different air from those held at other places; there is none of the usual muttering and shuffling around. War has a very sobering influence.

An excerpt from one of his letters gave a description of the slum-like conditions of the little people of France. He wrote: "A proud grey-haired lady has just passed; a two-wheeled cart carries her battered trunk, an assortment of bed clothing, a lamp and a cracked picture frame. It is a load for a railway porter. But she struggles on, her only interest lies in getting back to her pension; or is she moving from one of the tiny houses which are now in shambles?"

Captain Muirhead was with the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment before the war and went overseas with them in 1941. Following "D" Day, he was transferred to brigade headquarters where he is now. His wife resides at 223 Robert Street.

Now Reported Safe

First Chinese to join the R.C.A.P. as a pilot, P.O. Douglas Sam, listed as missing following air operations over a month ago, is now reported safe in England, according to information received here.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam, 2817 Blanshard Street, he commenced his training in October, 1942, and has seen considerable service as a bomber pilot over enemy territory.

P.O. Sam is a Victoria High School graduate.

Gets Military Cross

Captain John B. Orion, R.C.A.P., has been awarded the Military Cross for his services in Italy, according to word received here. Citation covering the award has not been made known.

Son of Mrs. J. B. Orion, 1130 Robertson Street and the late Rev. J. S. Orion, Capt. Orion, 26 was born in Alberta and enlisted in the army in 1940 following three years at Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont. He has been overseas in England and Italy since shortly after enlistment. He has two brothers, Anthony, at the University of British Columbia, and Fred, serving with the Canadian Navy aboard H.M.C.S. Runnymede.

Drug Saves Arm

Gangrene set in after sharpnel had penetrated the arm of Ont. Hugh W. Naughton, R.C.A.P. veteran of the battlefields of Italy, who is home recuperating from wounds. Prompt use of penicillin saved the limb, although the arm will be shorter than normal.

Ont. Naughton, who was among the latest group of war veterans to return to Canada, arrived home with his arm in a cast Saturday afternoon, and is staying with his parents on Old West Road, Saanich. After a month's leave he will return to Shaughnessy Military Hospital for further treatment.

A brother, Sgt. Terry E. Naughton, died on June 9 while on manoeuvres in England, and another brother, Cpl. George Naughton, is serving in France with the Provost Corps.

Promoted Overseas

CAPT. J. O. HALL

Who was recently promoted to his present rank on the field in Italy according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Hall, 925 Balmoral Road. Captain Hall has served in Italy with the 5th Armored Division for a year. Born in Victoria, he attended George Jay School and Victoria High School, and was with the Provincial Police prior to his enlistment for war.

He has been overseas three years. A brother, Major T. W. Hall, also of Victoria, is serving with the same regiment.

Worst June Weather

Lieut. Bruce McGregor, commander of a landing craft which ferried troops across the Channel to the Normandy beachheads on "D" Day is home.

One of four Victoria naval officers on leave here, all veterans of the invasion operations, he arrived on Sunday after spending several days in Montreal with his brother.

"Filthy" was the term used in describing the Channel weather as the combined operations got under way. From the weather standpoint it was the worst June in 40 years.

German coastal batteries were quickly silenced by big naval guns, the officer said, and the minefields and coastal batteries proved no great obstacle as they were prepared for them.

"Routine, but—well, yes, exciting" was the description given.

An early class graduate of H.M.C.S. Royal Roads, Lieut. McGregor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. McGregor, 2126 Granite Street.

Will Accept Parcels For Troops Overseas

It has been agreed that the Red Cross would accept again this year from regional auxiliaries Christmas parcels for shipment to the troops overseas, this to be on the same basis as last year. Christmas parcels shipped by regional auxiliaries are to reach the shipping warehouse at 455 St. Peter Street, Montreal, before October 15. This will leave time to make deliveries to the regiments at least two weeks before Christmas.

Christmas gifts should not include tobacco, cigarettes, matches, lighter fluid and used magazines, but may contain supplies such as small new books (limited quantity), shaving cream, soap, shoe laces, razor blades, razors, socks or other knitted comforts, lead pencils, writing pads, chocolate bars if of solid chocolate and suitably wrapped, gum, Christmas cake or plum pudding if packed in separate containers, either tin boxes or small lined corrugated cartons. Homemade cakes or comparable commodities cannot be carried because of their destruction through atmospheric conditions on an ocean voyage. A hard-boiled candy in this would be suitable if candy is to be included.

All shipments to be made in-take lots and cases with the name of the officer commanding. This address should be stenographed or written on the lower part of the case cover in the left hand corner. A list giving the detailed contents of each case, together with values to be supplied by the regional auxiliary making the shipment, is to be forwarded with the original shipping bills. The Canadian Red Cross assumes no responsibility for the conditions of the cases on arrival or for non-delivery.

SHERWOOD QUILTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—Robert E. Sherwood, director of the overseas branch of the United States Office of War Information, resigned tonight to return to private life in order to assist President Roosevelt in his fourth term bid for re-election.

Murray Bryce In Campaign

Charging that British Columbia had been unable to place $5,000 employable men in depression years, Harold Winch, M.L.A. for Vancouver East, said last night that no peace-time production plans had been made for the development of 10,000 servicemen and women and 70,000 war workers. He spoke before a packed hall at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium and an overflow meeting at the Knights of Columbus Hall where some 200 persons heard speeches by Mr. Winch, Colin Cameron, M.L.A. for Comox, and the C.C.F. nominee for Victoria, E.O. Murray D. Bryce, R.C.A.P. It was the latter's opening campaign speech.

With the end of the war in Europe now in sight, Mr. Winch said Provincial Governments still did not know their jurisdiction, and it was impossible to act until a coordinated plan had been evolved by Federal and Provincial Governments.

Responsibilities of each must be defined and the plans clarified, he contended.

"Where are the peacetime production plans of capitalism? Not the generalities but the action? I know of no such action," he declared before the attentive audience of 400 at the Chamber of Commerce Hall. A Dominion-Provincial conference to define post-war plans was most important, he stated.

"I would like to know what the Legislature is going to be called for in British Columbia next February if a conference is not held to determine the responsibilities of the respective Governments," Mr. Winch said, referring to a press statement of Premier John Hart yesterday.

"Do you realize that at the last session we did nothing because we were waiting for clarification?"

"Already there were 10,000 less workers in Vancouver shipyards than a year ago. There were going to be more layoffs, he asserted.

"If we can fight a war against dictators, we can win a war against poverty. If we can mobilize for a military victory, we can mobilize for economic security," he declared.

JAPANESE PROBLEM RACIAL MINORITY

Answering a barrage of questions on the Japanese problem, Mr. Winch asserted it was a racial minority problem and must be settled like all racial minority troubles in the world by international agreement at the peace conference. Japanese who were legally citizens and willing to be good citizens of the Dominion should be allowed to live in Canada, and all others should be deported. Their loyalty could be determined by demonstration and experience, he said.

Thyng Olfert Murray Bryce told his audience that the C.C.F. party offered a planned system of abundance for every citizen. Without a constructive change victory would be thrown away and servicemen and war workers forced to return to a civilian Canada of unemployment and strife.

"It is to defeat the home front fascists that we are fighting for a people's victory in this election," he declared.

Colin Cameron asserted that depression resulted from an economy which permitted a number of individuals to draw incomes greatly in excess of personal requirements.

"The aim of the C.C.F. is that the entire national income shall in the main be distributed to the people of Canada and a certain proportion reinvested in the machines of production," he stated. Four-fifths of the Federal power, income, would be necessary to care for the huge war debts after the war. He explained C.C.F. economic plans for Canada.

F. J. Bevis, chairman of the meeting, announced that a collection of $153 had been taken up during the meeting.

Criticism Postal Pay

Wage scale of Grade 20 postal clerks was criticized at a meeting of the Victoria Joint Veterans-Labor Consultative Council on Sunday. It was urged that such workers be placed under the Civil Service Commission and that labor and veteran groups bring pressure to bear on authorities for improved conditions for this class of employee.

The council passed a resolution urging the Federal Government to use the T.V.A. as an example for the establishment of similar regional authority in Canada.

A previous recommendation of the council which urged retirement at the age of 60 was given endorsement.

Fixed wages and a fixed scale for car expenses for rural mail delivery was given preliminary consideration as a measure to counteract competitive bidding. Improvement in the working condition of nighthouse keepers was also advocated.

Delegates named to the rehabilitation conference to be held here October 14 and 15 were W. P. Dallaway and Carl Pallas.

Reports on the last meeting of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council were given by Mr. Pallas, H. E. Traver and George Wilkinson.

OPEN CAMPAIGN

TORONTO, Sept. 25 (CP)—A campaign against the spread of venereal disease in this city, supported by civic, religious, medical and labor officials and sponsored by the Toronto branch of the Health League of Canada, opens next Monday, it was announced tonight.

MOVE CENTRE

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP)—The infantry basic training centre at Cornwall, Ont., is to be moved to Camp Borden, Ont., and reorganized as a four-company centre to a two-company centre. Defence Headquarters announced tonight. The change takes effect September 30.

The War Today

British airborne forces, slenderly linked as yet with Field Marshal Montgomery's ground armies in Holland, appeared to have still only a precarious toe-hold in the Arnhem-Emmerich gateway to the North German Plain, but the Arnhem salient of which they form the apex is significantly widening at its base. It seemed obvious that Montgomery was bent on gaining elbow room within which to mass sufficient power for quick and decisive exploitation of the break-through to out-flank the Siegfried Line when it came—and completely confident that it would come soon.

His forces pushing northward toward the Netherlands-Belgium border between Antwerp and Eindhoven were reported losing contact with the retreating Nazis. His air scouts discerned evidence of a German flight eastward from Western Holland through the narrow Arnhem-IJssel Meer (Zuider Zee) escape route. The implication was that a Nazi stand behind the Neder-Rhine and the canal fronted IJssel running through Eastern Holland via Deventer and Zwolle would be attempted.

Arnhem is the key to that northern extension of the Siegfried Line, however. Its fate as well as that of the main trans-Rhine defences depends upon what happens at Arnhem.

Meanwhile, a double Allied wedge apparently aimed at the southern salient of the Arnhem-Emmerich gap, Kleve, is on or beyond German frontiers on a considerable front east of Nijmegen.

Murder Trial At Nanaimo

NANAIMO, Sept. 25.—The trial of Reginald Paul, Seattle Indian, on a charge of murder, was half completed tonight when the Assize Court adjourned until Tuesday.

Paul is accused of the murder of his wife, Gertrude, on board the steamer Freya here on March 24 last. When court opened this morning, Crown Prosecutor V. R. Harrison announced that the charge against Paul had been increased from manslaughter to murder.

It is alleged that Paul and a number of friends engaged in a party on board the Freya, which was tied up here. Mrs. Paul returned to the boat after a visit up town and Paul is said to have beaten her. He reported to police on the morning of March 24 that his wife was dead on the boat.

Rain of Blows

Germany, reeling now from a succession of hammer blows around the diminishing circumference of her fortress home soil, is putting up the stubborn, dogged resistance that was to be expected from the Nazis and the German Army, standing alike on the same precarious ground. In the West, the Allies are moving in strength to the assault of her chief defences. In the South, several German forces have been pocketed, and the attack in Italy sweeps on into the valley of the Po. There, too, the Balkans are crumbling, and from the Adriatic to the Ionian Sea the enemy is being driven. In the East, the siege of Warsaw tightens; the enemy has been hamstrung on the shores of the Baltic Sea, and the Russian drive deep into the southeast continues almost unopposed. The picture is bright.

There are the established facts. It was on the basis of those facts that the United Nations called yesterday on the 12,000,000 foreign workers in Germany to revolt: to leave their farms and factories, to put the Gestapo on the defensive and to keep it there. For in a military sense, this is Germany's last hour. She is beset by land on every quarter. Her defences are yielding at the seams. The United Nations' air attack has mounted steadily, until today there is terror over Germany by day and by night. Immense force is being applied on a totally co-ordinated plan. If to that attack in the field internal revolt within the Reich is added, Germany may be brought to the breaking point more quickly than would have appeared possible even a month ago. The Second Battle of France and the Second Battle of London have been fought, and won. The Battle of Germany grows hotter with every day, with every minute of every hour. Something must crack. It will not be the United Nations, rising now to the zenith of their combined power.

Battle in Balance

The situation at the moment on the German right flank, across the Rhine, is tense, but there is no occasion for undue alarm. The Allies are carrying out a daring thrust, and are consolidating positions taken with great gallantry in the face of the stiffest form of opposition. German troops in Holland are cut off and segmented. Allied spearheads at the Rhine are broadening, and prompt reinforcement of the airborne divisions bids fair to bring success to one of the shrewdest strokes of the whole war. In this attack, United Kingdom, Canadian and American troops all have had their parts, and are carrying them splendidly. The surrender of 2,000 German officers and 120,000 men to Imperial and Canadian units alone is typical of the whole action.

It is obvious, none the less, that there is still plenty of fight left in the enemy. His legions are defending themselves with the desperation born of hopelessness. When force is worsted it has no remedy, and that precisely is the position in which the aggressors are standing today. For Germany, as for Japan, there will now be nothing but fighting, and that on an ever-mounting scale, until the whole fabric of aggression collapses. Germany asked for that, and she is reaping her own sowing. Already the outcry for a "soft" peace is beginning in the neutral press of the world. But Germany sowed a war, and can reap only the fruits of that. The word, for her, is still "unconditional surrender." So it must remain. And, after the outright defeat of Germany, the world will have both hands free to deal with Japan. It is high time.

Through to Success

The Kiwanis Club of Victoria is entitled to sincere congratulations upon the opening of the occupational therapy and convalescent pavilion for tubercular patients at the Royal Jubilee Hospital today. This is a community service that has been carried through to success. The pavilion will be in instant use, ameliorating the lives of those for whom it was intended. A fine library in connection with the same institution should contribute much to the comfort of those who will have access to it.

For a number of years in succession the Kiwanis Club has interested itself in the cause of the victims of tuberculosis in this area. The public will recall the annual real seal campaigns and other appeals, made with ingenuity and steady persistence. Much of this work has borne ripe fruit, and today another part of it passes from the visioned to the practical, working utility. This is community service at its best.

It requires a great deal of enthusiasm to produce even a small improvement in the living conditions of mankind. Dreams and visions remain futile until they are turned into action, and it is action always that brings results. Because they have had this dream, and more particularly because they pushed it through to a useful and tangible result, the Kiwanis of Victoria have every right to feel happy today. Their work in a public cause will ease the lives of some, and another community service has been realized. It was well done. The new institution is opening under favorable auspices, and should prove a worthwhile contribution to the public weal.

Robot Bombs Beaten

The rapid drive of the Canadians up the Channel coast of France has brought a virtual end to the robot bomb attack upon London and southern cities in England.

British Broadcasting Corporation announced yesterday that robot bombs were falling on southern counties at the rate of six a day, and that these were believed to be launched from German planes. The bomb platforms on the ground have been overrun, and German bomb crews have been kept on the run so that they have had little time to set up fresh ones to take the place of the captured sites. So another "secret weapon" fails Hitler.

The loss of the Channel coast, beside being a major disaster to Germany in the war, is the best assurance upon our side that Germany's boast of bigger and more destructive rocket-bombs and robot bombs now will not come to fruition. Small charges can be launched from mother-planes, but not large ones. Meanwhile, the United Kingdom, for five years a front-line area in the war, is gradually freeing itself of all such incursions. It has been many a day since the Luftwaffe bothered Great Britain. The robot bomb attacks were sharp, but the final remedy has now been applied. The lights are on again in London, as one day they will be going on once more all over the world.

In retrospect, the robot bombs were Germany's all but final fling at frightfulness. The Allied bombing of a German poison gas factory last week shows that there is still one more shot in the Nazi locker, if they dare to use it. The occasion, however, may never come. Poison gas will not hold a front that is being breached at a round dozen points. Still, the world will note that the German gas was there, as it was at Ypres in 1914. Those who plead for a conditioned peace for Germany should examine these things. For there is the true nature of the Hun: to conquer by any means, however foul.

Community Chest

Some $40,000 of the $90,000 sought by the Community Chest and the Salvation Army in a joint annual drive was reported in hand at the week-end, leaving a considerable amount to be raised if the objective for the Greater Victoria area is to be reached. It is difficult to escape the conviction that the public is not matching its own record in past years, when similar sums were raised without too much difficulty. The appeal now must be to the individual—to do as well as before, and better if possible to provide for the gaps left by circumstances. This is a community responsibility, and it cannot safely be neglected.

The work of the Salvation Army requires no explanation. Its wartime efforts have been beyond all praise. The work of the Community Chest includes the services of some twenty or more local charitable institutions, all of which must go to the public for their funds. It is so easy, in such a case, to think that "others will provide." But community service must be shared, and no individual having the means is relieved of his, or her, share of that responsibility. There are a few days left in which a much better complexion can be placed upon the current drive. That should be done. Victoria never yet has waited for others to do its own work. This is our work, until the task is done.

Seen in Passing

Victoria's second helping of Summer, better perhaps than its first, is one of the dividends that come from its position at the southern end of Vancouver Island. To many minds, the Indian Summer is the best season of the year; the period of color and change, of harvest and garnering, of bright sunny days and cool, clear nights. The western slopes of the Rockies and coastal ranges have its counterpart, each in a little different form. In Victoria, however, the Indian Summer reaches its fullest expression, or so those who are visitors within the area claim.

The war has progressed far enough for us to recall the days when tea was rationed, when wood fuel was impossible to obtain, when blackout tests were always suspected of being "the real thing," when much that was emergent and dire was promised but did not come to pass. Our gratitude should take the form of greater effort than ever in the war, coupled with the determination to see it brought to a successful termination at the earliest moment consonant with total victory. This is the time to work as never before, so that our fighting men will receive the support they have so richly earned.

Evening Calm

No sound is uttered—but a deep—
And solemn harmony pervades.
The hollow vale from steep to steep—
And penetrates the glades.
Far-distant images draw nigh,
Called forth by wondrous potency
Of beamy radiance, that imbues
What'er it strikes with gem-like hues!
In vision exquisitely clear,
Herds range along the mountain side;
And glistening antlers are decreed:
And gilded flocks appear.
Thine is the tranquil hour, purpureal Eve!
But long as god-like wish, or hope divine,
Informs my spirit, ne'er can I believe
That this magnificence is wholly thine!
—From worlds not quickened by the sun
A portion of the gift is won:
An intermingling of Heaven's pomp is spread
On ground which British shepherds tread!

Commands in France

From The Times, London, Sept. 1, 1944

General Eisenhower, addressing war correspondents at Supreme Headquarters in London yesterday, warmly praised General Montgomery and said emphatically that anyone who interpreted the command changes as demotion for General Montgomery was one who would not look facts in the face.

Speaking of the general unfolding of the Allied plan, General Eisenhower said that there were three ways leading to Germany, where they must go to defeat the enemy decisively and completely. General Montgomery's forces were expected to beat the Germans on the left, General Bradley to defeat them in the centre, and the Mediterranean forces to bring the troops up from the south.

When the initial beaghead was very restricted and it was one tactical battle he put General Montgomery in tactical control of the American land forces. His control over those forces was to exist as long as they were in the restricted Cherbourg Peninsula and until they could break out of that and get started in the areas where General Montgomery and General Bradley would each be expected to follow in the general advance against the enemy. That did not mean that they were isolated into compartments, or that at any moment American troops could not be thrown over to help their partners or vice versa if necessary. All the tasks in this great campaign were the result of teamwork.

The time had come when they had broken out of the Cherbourg Peninsula and General Bradley was taking over his part of the job and reporting directly to Staff Headquarters.

A GREAT SOLDIER

Anyone who interpreted that as demotion for General Montgomery was one who would not look facts in the face. Montgomery was his great and personal friend, and he had a great admiration for him. He was one of the great soldiers of this or any other war, and he would now have the job of handling the battle on his part of the front. It would be most unfortunate if this plan of campaign which had developed as it was conceived from the start should be interpreted as a demotion or as a slap at anybody. This was the final stage in the Allied Command system, and had been settled since last January. Two weeks ago the battle was still going on in a restricted area. General Montgomery was as responsible as anybody else for the conception of the break-through at Avranches, the Palaise-Argentan pocket, the crossing of the Seine, and the sweep east of Paris. He had the job of executing those moves and directing them so that the American, British, and Canadian forces all went in the right direction. It was all a matter of teamwork.

Speaking of reports of an American parade in Paris, General Eisenhower said that one night he was at General Bradley's headquarters and a problem was reported which made it necessary for him to rush to Paris next morning. Unfortunately General Montgomery could not go with him. In Paris there were many people who were colonel-laborers. Some were armed and there was trouble. The city was nervous, and the front line was at the east gate. The French asked him if he could possibly bring a couple of divisions through the city on their way to the front.

General Eisenhower said that he had "lived Allied" for three years and half his own houses were British. He had no right to appear exclusively as American, and nothing was done on the basis of British versus American.

FALL OF PARIS

When the first announcement was made that Paris had fallen they were in the midst of getting the French armored division ready to go in. The only British people at headquarters were a little staff group. His orders were that when General Leclerc's troops marched in there were to be only as many Americans as there were French troops. The actual fact was that they could not get into Paris straight away, and they had to call up the American Fourth Division, and so there were more American troops than had been intended. Certain Parisians, he said, asked "Ou est M. Churchill?"

As these columns went through Paris, General de Gaulle was invited to take a stand on the side of the road and watch the troops go through. It was no parade. It was a march and deployment to the front to establish a definite feeling of confidence into the city and to help De Gaulle in his own particular problems.

Speaking of the general plan in France, General Eisenhower said that any plan which did not have the divine quality of flexibility was doomed to failure in modern war. Some of the day-by-day advances had not been as they thought they might be, but on "D" Plus 85 they where they had anticipated they would be "D" Plus 90.

Of the German stand in the Caen area, General Eisenhower said that every foot of ground the Germans lost at Caen was like losing ten miles anywhere else. When he saw those British writers tending to apologize for slow progress in that area he thought they ought to have been bragging. The Germans threw in every Panzer Division available to hold that region, and organized the strongest set of defenses they had on that front. The Germans had established a good line of defence, and every piece of dust there was more than a diamond to them.

Before long we shall see what is perhaps known as practical philanthropy. Some persons will want to put nations back on their feet just so they can sell them shoes.

Doctors advise in case of an influenza epidemic this winter: Keep out of crowds and avoid persons who sneeze, cough and sniffle. Avoid exposure to bad weather and get plenty of sunshine and fresh air. Keep your home well ventilated. Follow a well-balanced diet and drink plenty of water. Guard against fatigue and get enough rest. Wear clothing suited to the weather. At the first sign of a cold, especially accompanied by fever, go to bed and stay there until your doctor says it is safe to get up. Cover coughs and sneezes preferably with paper tissues which should then be burned. Discourage visitors. Do not try to diagnose or treat your own case. Rely on your doctor.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

(From The Daily Colonist of September 26, 1919.)

Inspection of College—The cadets at the Royal Naval College, Esquimalt, at the request of the Prince of Wales, who visited there yesterday morning, were given a holiday in celebration of the occasion. The announcement was made by His Royal Highness at the conclusion of the little talk which he gave yesterday after inspecting the college, in the course of which he saw some of the classes at work in the gymnasium.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

(From The Daily Colonist of September 26, 1894.)

The City—Two lads named Parker were driving a horse and buggy when a wheel caught in the train track on Port Street, breaking the axle. The horse began to kick, and finally ran away after dumping the occupants of the buggy on the street. The frightened animal, after smashing the buggy to pieces, fell on Vancouver Street and broke his leg so badly he had to be shot.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

(From The Daily Colonist of September 26, 1869.)

Either Sugar or Salt—A ship's crew at Burrard Inlet, the other day, struck work because it rained. They were paid off. It wouldn't be a bad idea to supply the modern sailor with umbrella and galeshies while on duty. These comfortable adjuncts would prove quite handy, especially aloft.

A REPLY

Sir—Would you kindly permit a short reply to the two advocates of Social Credit. In dealing with this scheme one cannot ignore the fact that the scheme is based on the by first-class impartial minds all over the world and has been found to be unworkable.

In theory it has attractive points, but in practice it is a bad headache. Ottawa did not block the main move to get dividends. That was done by the Alberta Government itself when the farmers objected to the proposal that the first dividend should come from agriculture. No other industry was found to take the rap so the matter was quietly shelved. Prime Minister King could hardly be expected to support a thing that the Social Creditists themselves had lost faith in, could he?

The Toronto statement of policy by the Social Credit group states that all other political systems mean compulsion while theirs alone favor what they call inducement and the greatest possible freedom. To many students and thinkers, however, who have dug into this very intricate scheme it appears to be a strictly a case—if adopted—of enter the experts and exit the freedom-loving democrats.

CANADA'S CHOICE

Sir—I wish to commend your recent editorial on the Japanese question in British Columbia and Canada. It does seem a pity that party politics somehow became influenced to take a narrow and short view of ultimate results of policies.

Away back several hundred years ago when populations were small and much of our globe was wide open spaces with thinly populated waste territories, it did look to be the logical thing to open wide our doors and invite all peoples alike to come and share our heritage, but that was the short view of statesmanship and did not visualize the future problems which nature brings in the hearts and minds of men accustomed to widely different environments or of inherited instincts and modes of thought.

To the Canadian people and nation, I would say, be warned in time. Our action now will become the foundation stone of the future of a great nation. Nothing can lighten the burden or change the permanent results of what Canada does now, and you have abundant evidence everywhere around you, and in all races of peoples, to guide your decisions, which will make for future peace and harmony and prosperity for many centuries to come.

It is chiefly the alarming propensity of selfish interested money-grabbing people on both sides of the Pacific, which work for the influx of low-paid servile and cheap labor into Canada which would advocate Japanese immigration to Canada and the retention of those who have here already, it is not as if there is no room for them in Asia, vast stretches of idle undeveloped land there for the taking, but the lure of high wages and easy money is too strong for them in Canada, and only a small proportion of them would allow themselves to absorb a loyal Canadian spirit. For generations they would be a doubtful menace, and a weakness in any national crisis of the future.

To be friendly, neighbors do not require to have free use of our homes, kitchens or gardens, to go always where we go, and eat of our food, but as peoples and nations we should be able to live on either side of the Pacific in our own homeland, each other.

Let us set the pace of international etiquette and be friendly with all Asiatic races, so long as they do not become too insistent in demanding personal rights and privileges in sharing our national heritage on this side of the ocean.

Says Handwriting Reveals Character

"Know thyself" is the injunction M. A. Hamlett, certified grapho-analyst, of Victoria, believes can be made possible by his system of handwriting analysis.

It makes no difference if the writing is that of an educated or uneducated person, says Mr. Hamlett; it is the strokes used in writing that reveal the character by showing the emotional status of the individual. A bus dispatcher who has studied this subject for 12 years, Mr. Hamlett has found that "handwriting is a sure way of identifying character." Specimens of the writing of petty offenders taken from the city police records have been analyzed by Mr. Hamlett with a surprising degree of accuracy, as proved by comparison with the known character of the subject.

He has also been called on by the R.C.M.P. to use his knowledge in the identification of cheques, and occasionally on specimens of writing. In Victoria for the past four years, he has had personal interviews with over 500 people who have sought him out, either from curiosity or because of the desire for aid in personal problems.

Various charitable organizations have benefited by Mr. Hamlett's voluntary services, and several local clubs and societies have had him speak to them on the little-known topic of the link between personality and pen.

He believes there is a great field for his type of work in present-day criminology, and also that otherwise disastrous relationships, even marriages, might be prevented in time if it was apparent that characters of the parties concerned were not of a co-ordinate type. For the present, however, Mr. Hamlett says he is content to help in his spare time those who seek his counsel to "know themselves."

Victoria Officer Commanded Final Assault on Boulogne

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP)—The Canadian commander who led the final assault on Boulogne was identified today as Brig. J. M. Rockingham, of Victoria, B.C.

Pictures of the battle-dressed

Highland regiment, and his immaculate, captive, Lt.-Gen. Ferdinand Heim, who commanded the German Boulogne garrison, were prominently displayed in London morning newspapers.

Both were shown with cigarettes, but Heim's was unlighted. Brig. Rockingham was quoted as saying: "I have given him a cigarette and now he wants me to light it for him—darned if I will."

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP)—Brig. John Meredith Rockingham, of Victoria, B.C., identified in London today as the Canadian commander who led the final assault on Boulogne, went overseas in 1941 with the Canadian Scottish Regiment and later served as commanding officer of the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry Regiment, an army public relations spokesman said tonight.

The spokesman said available records showed that Brig. Rockingham, 33, relinquished command of the R.H.L.I. last February to attend the Royal Military Staff College in Britain. The records did not show what post he was appointed to on leaving the college.

Brig. Rockingham, a native of Sydney, Australia, was assistant line superintendent for the British Columbia Electric Railway for three years prior to the war. An officer in the Canadian Scottish Regiment (N.P.A.M.) from 1933, he went on active service September 1, 1939. He remained in Canada for two years and then went overseas as a captain with the Canadian Scottish. He was promoted major in 1942 and transferred to the R.H.L.I. later; he was appointed second in command of the R.H.L.I. in April, 1943; he was promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel and appointed commanding officer of that regiment.

Brigadier Rockingham's wife and two children reside at 1540 Despard Avenue.

Court of Appeal Victoria Sittings

At the opening of the court yesterday Joseph McKenna, acting for Denis Murphy, appellants' counsel in the Langthorne and Woods case, moved for a reopening of the appeal in order that further submissions on behalf of the defendants could be heard.

The court after hearing counsel at 2:30 o'clock rendered judgment and members were unanimous in dismissing the appeals both as to conviction and sentence.

In speaking to the sentence, Mr. Justice O'Halloran, presiding, said that although the court recognized the severity of the seven-year prison term, in face of both the defendant's criminal record and leniency was unjustified.

J. S. Burton appeared for the defendant in Rex vs. William O'Brien, and was successful in obtaining a new trial.

O'Brien was convicted by His Honor Judge Harper for the theft of $2,873.79 and five Victory Bonds, the property of A. C. King, owner of the Cave Cabaret, and was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

Mr. Burton moved for a new trial on the ground of new evidence having been discovered, exonerating the accused.

The court considered it was a necessary expedient pursuant to Section 1021 of the Code to grant the motion, and with consent of Crown counsel ordered a new trial by jury. B. J. R. Remnant appeared for the Crown.

The appeals in Rex vs. Java and Rex vs. Serrao, listed for yesterday, were not heard as appellants' counsel was not present.

The court ordered the appeals to stand dismissed, but 16 remain in the registry till 10 a.m. September 27, and if not spoken to by then to stand.

HIGH AWARD

HALIFAX, Sept. 26 (CP)—Standing on two artificial legs, Edward M. Wilson, of Forest, Ont., today received the Meritorious Service Medal of the United States and became the first Canadian to be presented the award. The 38-year-old radio operator, whose legs were frozen during five days in a lifeboat after the sinking of a United States freighter, was awarded the decoration for heroism during the lifeboat ordeal. The citation said he was largely responsible for the saving of the lives of the five men who survived in the boat.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (CP)—Great Britain and the United States announced tonight that blacklisting of business firms alleged to be pro-Axis will be continued after victory in Europe in order to penalize firms which have profited by trading with the Germans and to cut off funds which Nazi leaders might otherwise use in fleeing Germany.

The announcement was interpreted as evidence of a tough post-war Allied economic policy designed to give commercial advantage to business interests, which have co-operated with the Allied countries in competition with those interests accused of growing fat on Axis profits.

The policy will be felt especially in such countries as Spain and Sweden where Axis trade was heavy, and, in fact, began to decline only in recent months when the neutrals finally realized that Hitler could no longer hope even for a compromise peace in Europe.

The policy will also be felt in the Western Hemisphere, mostly in Argentina, which maintained its links with Germany longer than any other American country and is at present accused by State Secretary Hull of being the headquarters of Fascist operations in the Americas.

Of five reasons listed in the Anglo-American announcement for continuing the blacklist in force the last was that it would constitute a means for economic strangulation of Japan.

Many controls are imposed on blacklisted firms by Britain and the United States and presumably other Allied countries such as France now will join in maintaining them. The controls include provision that American and British firms cannot do business with a blacklisted firm nor can such firms obtain funds from the United States.

A Canadian Government spokesman said that if Britain and the United States continued to blacklist alleged pro-Axis firms after victory in Europe he was certain Canada would follow "exactly" the same course.

seriously thought to restore the situation. Headquarters, however, had no confirmation of this report.

18 MILES FROM GERMAN FRONTIER

Southwest of Kieve the British Second Army was moving out east of its Holland base at Elndhoven on a 13-mile front and advanced elements knifing into Deuren, due east of Elndhoven, were about 18 miles from the German frontier.

Supreme headquarters said Allied forces had entered the forest of the Reichswald, which screens the fortress of Kieve on the southwest, and front dispatches said these were British troops and tanks. They are eight miles from Kieve.

Four or five miles to the north, American sky troopers attached to the British Second Army, seized the Netherlands frontier village of Beek and struck into Germany at about the same distance from Kieve.

This twin thrust put the Allies about 50 miles northwest of the Ruhr city of Essen, with its great Krupp munitions factories.

Canadian infantry today smashed into the outer defences of Calais after a concentrated R.A.F. bombing of enemy positions there. A field dispatch from Alan Randall, Canadian Press war correspondent, said they captured Escalles, seven miles to the west, overran the southwestern perimeter in several places and cut into strongpoints to the south of the port, under siege for more than two weeks.

For the foreign workers at Essen and elsewhere in the industrial Ruhr and Rhineland and throughout Germany, a spokesman for General Eisenhower sent this electric message:

"The hour for action has come. Organized groups, now receiving Allied arms, were told to take 'immediate action according to the pre-arranged plan' to quit war factories, and avoid unorganized resistance which would put them in the clutches of the Gestapo.

Apparently unable to seize intact the road and rail bridges across the middle branch of the Rhine at Arnhem, the British Second Army brought up sea going trucks—the famous 'ducks' of amphibious operations—and threw a bitterly-contested bridgehead across the quarter-mile wide stream.

Polish reinforcements who slipped across the river Sunday night were fighting close to the positions just west of Arnhem of the airborne division but no firm junction had been made.

GERMANS STRIKE DURING DARKNESS

The Germans, attempting to sever the vital artery of supply running up through Holland, struck with renewed violence under cover of darkness near Veghel, 20 miles southwest of Nijmegen, and cut the road for five hours this morning before British tanks drove them off.

On the west Canadian and British forces scored 16-mile advances on a front of about 20 miles. A field dispatch said British troops entered the Belgian city of Turnhout, 25 miles northeast of Antwerp, after their patrols found it abandoned by the enemy.

Twenty miles farther west, a dispatch from the front said Canadian forces were compelled to yield the bridgehead they drove across the Antwerp-Turnhout canal near Lochterberg, about five miles northwest of Antwerp. But reconnaissance forces of Lt.-Gen. Crevel's army reached the canal at Saint Leonard, 12 miles northeast of Antwerp. These forces were pressing hard against the Germans cut off by the British sweep through Holland.

The Canadian infantry storming the Calais defences moved up about two hours after four-engine R.A.F. bombers plastered enemy fortified positions for an hour and 40 minutes early in the day. A garrison of 7,000 to 8,000 is believed held up in Calais.

Inconclusive fighting still raged inside Germany on the First Army front, but the Americans unlimbered big 240-mm. (10-inch) guns and were blasting at targets on the approaches to the German industrial city of Cologne on the Rhine.

The enemy was giving way slowly in the Nancy area to the south, and German civilians were feverishly digging trenches behind the lines on French soil before the Rhine.

French forces of the U.S. Seventh Army slashed forward five miles north of Baccarat, which is 29 miles southeast of Nancy and 45 miles from the French city of Strasbourg on the Rhine. The Germans also were thrown out of Leyr, eight miles northeast of Nancy.

Germans Caught

CALGARY, Sept. 25 (CP)—While waiting for a Westbound freight, Richard Heinrich, 23, and George Rauwols, 23, German prisoners of war who escaped from the Barnwell labor camp hostel over the weekend, were arrested by R.C.M.P. at nearby Bowness about 11 o'clock tonight.

The prisoners wore civilian coats and had turned their prison trousers inside out.

Resistance when they were questioned and arrested.

OPINION DIVIDED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (CP)—Major George Preddy, United States Air Force fighter pilot, home on leave, said today the question whether Allied pilots should shoot at German pilots forced to bail out in combat is one on which American airmen do not see eye to eye. He said in an interview at the War Department that "about half" of the American pilots don't take advantage of opportunities to shoot parachuting enemy airmen, but that "some think it should be done, and some do it."

LORD JUSTICE DIES

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP)—Lord Justice Luxmore, 68, died tonight in hospital. He collapsed as he stepped from a taxi outside a London hotel late this afternoon. He had been a Lord Justice of Appeal since 1938.

CALAIS GUNS ACTIVE

FOLKESTONE, Sept. 26 (Tuesday) (CP)—A German battery at Calais lobbed single shells across Dover Strait for nearly an hour early today in what may well be the final such bombardment of Southern England. Even as the shelling continued the flashes of guns could be seen several miles southwest of Calais as a great battle raged for the port, with Canadian troops steadily closing in on the German garrison.

Doctors to Open Convention Today

Surgical, biological and pharmaceutical exhibits from more than 20 leading medical supply firms of Canada will be on display in the Empress Hotel ballroom today, when more than 250 physicians and surgeons will meet to attend the annual meeting of the Canadian Medical Association. The party will last four days, and will be headed by Dr. P. A. C. Cousland, president.

penicillin, and the latest surgical instruments.

Among the more interesting exhibits will be a complete human skeleton, showing the latest methods of applying splints to broken bones.

The convention will open this morning with registration of attending doctors at 8 o'clock. Following several lectures during the morning, an official luncheon will be held in the grill room, where

Dr. J. W. Lennox, president of the Victoria Medical Society, will also extend a welcome.

Social Agencies Students Take Up Field Work Here

Miss M. Smith, director of social work course at the University of British Columbia, and her assistant, Miss K. Reible, spent the week-end in Victoria, supervising the students from the University, placed here, for field work training. In order to qualify for a Social Service Work diploma all students must do practical work in the field of social work as well as complete a course of lectures. The students here are at present participating in "The Community Chest campaign."

"This year," reported an official of the agencies, "there are over 60 students enrolled in the social work course, and each year as the number increases it becomes more evident that the Vancouver social agencies cannot hope to handle the number of students requiring field work training. It is essential, therefore, that the Victoria social agencies take on the training of more and more students. Executives of the agencies here have expressed their willingness to work with the University but have asked that an institute or short course of lectures be given to prepare them for the supervising of students. It is hoped that such a course given by Miss Smith will be made available in November."

When here Miss Smith met with a group of social workers to discuss the proposed course and at the meeting reported that there is an acute need for more workers in the field of social work and in particular a demand for workers in the Roman Catholic agencies. This year there is an increase in the number of Roman Catholic students enrolled in the social work course at the University, but even so the number is not sufficient. To meet this need such organizations as the Vancouver Council of the Knights of Columbus have offered scholarships for Roman Catholic students wishing to take the course.

The intensive effort of the Community Chest campaign, continued the official, "carried on during the past week, in which so many citizens of Victoria have participated bears witness to Victoria's recognition of the growing need of trained and carefully selected workers to undertake the social responsibilities of the community. With the increased facilities for training in this Province, the education committee of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Association of Social Workers, feel they must undertake the recruiting of promising students."

Those interested should apply for specific information to any of the following committee members: Mrs. A. Spurgin, Family Welfare Association; Mrs. F. Muir, City Social Welfare; Miss L. Moss, Mother's Allowance; Mr. Blanchard, Social Assistance Branch; Mrs. A. J. Tullis, Social Service Department, Royal Jubilee Hospital; or Miss J. Cameron, Children's Aid Society.

Yellow Point Lodge, via Vancouver and Nanaimo. The bride's going away costume was an aqua marine dressmaker suit with fuchsia hat and black accessories. She wore a corsage bouquet of gardenias.

On their return from their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Waites will reside at 601 Cook Street.

GLOVER—CALLOW. At a pretty wedding solemnized on Monday evening by Rev. G. Biddle in St. John's Church, Doris Agnes, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Callow, 430 Parry Street, became the bride of L.A.C. Harding Glover, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Glover, 1057 Richmond Road.

Roy Taylor sang the "Lord's Prayer" as the register was being signed. Baskets of white chrysanthemums were arranged by the chapel steps and nosegays of pink lily-of-the-valleys marked the guest pews.

The bride's gown of white satin featured a long train and a full skirt gathered into the low waistline of the fitted bodice which had lily point sleeves and a sweetheart neck. Her veil swept to the floor from a pleated coronet and she carried a bouquet of red and white carnations showered with rosebuds.

Mr. Callow gave his daughter in marriage and she was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. C. Callow, Miss Muriel Mann and Miss Evelyn Taylor. A frock of pale yellow Swiss muslin with a taffeta pink bonnet to match and colonial pony of yellow and white carnations was worn by the matron of honor, and similar frocks of pink muslin and matching taffeta picture-hats by the bridesmaids, who carried sprays of pink and white carnations and mauve asters. Mr. Albert Glover supported his brother, and Mr. John and Mr. George Callow, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

During the reception at the home of the groom's parents, the young couple stood beneath a floral arch, and after the toast had been given by Mr. Dick Jenkins, the bride cut the three-tier cake embedded in white tulle on a lace-covered table decorated with pink rosebuds and lighted tapers.

For a honeymoon in Vancouver the bride chose a powder blue wifed-cummet coat over a beige wool dress with brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias and pink rosebuds.

MacDONALD—PAYNE. As the wedding march from "Lo-hengrin" sounded in Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Oak Bay, on Tuesday, September 12, Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Payne, 2530 Esplanade Street, escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage, exchanged wedding vows with Sergeant Hubert Raymond MacDonald, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. P.

Baby's Life Saved By London Beauty

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 25 (CP)—How a London nurse, who won the "Miss London" beauty title in 1933, became the heroine of an emergency childbirth on board a ship three hours out of Vancouver was related here today.

Without medical help or proper obstetrical facilities, Mrs. Jack Fuhrman not only delivered a premature baby but breathed into the child's lungs for half an hour to give it life.

Scott whisky was the only stimulant available to support the three-pound infant, born rigid and blue from asphyxia.

Mrs. Fuhrman—formerly Audrey Richmond—was passenger on a ship traveling from Alleford Bay, B.C. to Patricia Bay, where she was to join her husband, who is stationed with the R.C.A.F. Her patient was a logger's wife taken aboard during the trip on her way to hospital.

Mrs. C. P. Beak, retiring president, spoke before the chapter on the need for cultural centres in major Canadian cities, and asked that letters approving of the plan be sent to J. C. Turgeon, M.P., House of Commons, Ottawa, head of the Federal Reconstruction Committee.

A review of the year's activities was given by the secretary, and the treasurer's report was found to be satisfactory.

A musical evening followed, consisting of two groups of Norwegian songs sung by Mrs. T. H. Johns, accompanied by Mrs. Milburn. Selections of Chopin and Liszt were given by Miss H. Gilson.

Over $650 Netted Through Bulb Sale

The bulb sale held by the Gordon Head Red Cross Unit during the week-end proved to be a highly successful undertaking over $650 being raised to augment Red Cross funds.

The sale was opened by Col. J. Q. Gillan, O.B.E., honorary secretary of the Victoria district Red Cross, who was introduced by Mrs. E. H. Mitchell, Gordon Head district convenor. Colonel Gillan spoke of the value of the work being done by the Red Cross and referred to the fine contributions, both financial and material, which have been made by this district.

The sale, held in the Community Hall, had Mrs. C. C. Wilson as general convenor. Mrs. Mel McMillen acting as treasurer. In the main hall were long tables on which a great variety of bulbs donated by professional and amateur growers of the district and these attracted a host of purchasers. Mrs. C. C. Wilson also acted as convenor of this section.

A fine collection of Autumn fruits and vegetables was also offered for sale in the main hall. Mrs. N. V. R. Hines being convenor, while next to it a varied collection of plants and shrubs were for sale, under the care of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Renouf.

In the side hall Mrs. Philip Fleming presided over a generously stocked home-cooking stall, while Mrs. P. S. Maddock was in charge of the jams and jellies stall, which had also been well filled by the women of the district. In this room too was a novelty and needlework stall convened by Mrs. A. G. Lambie and Mrs. J. P. Holmes, which added substantially to the proceeds of the sale.

During the afternoon tea was served by Mrs. Hamilton Brown. Conveners of all sections were ably assisted by members of their working groups and the affair represented the efforts of the whole district.

Beefsteak and Kidney Pie

This famous standby is a wonderful dish for Fall appetites

Another popular way of using the less expensive cuts of beef, Beefsteak and Kidney Pie is delicious, nutritious and easy to prepare.

Cut 2 lbs. of round steak and one beef kidney into 1 1/2 inch cubes. Dredge in well-seasoned flour and brown in hot lard. Simmer in a heavy saucepan for about two hours. Add 8 tiny onions peeled and sliced, 4 or 5 carrots scraped and sliced and 6 potatoes peeled and quartered. Cook 15 minutes more. Blend lard left from browning meat, with flour left from dredging and work into smooth gravy with stock. Now line sides of a deep dish with Silverleaf pie paste—see panel—place a support for top crust in centre and turn in filling. Moisten top edge of paste with cold water and adjust rolled out sheet of paste slotted for escape of steam. Bake in hot (375 degree) oven until crust is golden brown... about half an hour.

Lift Power Restrictions Off All Provinces Except B.C.

Mr. Howe said all restrictions and directives of the power controller will be lifted in all areas except British Columbia where "an unprecedented drought combined with a most difficult oil situation makes it absolutely essential that all restrictions now imposed locally be obeyed."

The restrictions in Ontario and Quebec were imposed in a move to provide continuous power to war plants. Under the restrictions, advertising signs, and show windows were blacked out. Street lighting was curtailed, highway lighting was prohibited and the use of power for rural extensions was prohibited.

Because of the situation in British Columbia the people there were requested to "co-operate to the fullest extent by limiting their use of electric power to an absolute minimum."

Mr. Howe said that any restrictions which had been imposed on industry of any kind as a result of the restrictions also would be lifted October 1.

Notice from the Federal Govern-

This is the first of a series of advertisements to inform the people of Canada of plans to re-establish men and women of the armed forces. To get the full details save and read every advertisement.

When your boys and your girls come home, when they lay aside the uniform, when they go out into the world as normal peace-loving Canadians, what lies ahead? Can they pick up their lives as civilians, where they laid them down, months or long years ago? Are there plans to help them do the things they wanted to do before the war? Will they have security? Can they continue education, or receive needed training? Will they be assisted in home owning, or to establish their own business, and will they be enabled to pick up their family life once again?

Canada has been making plans for your boys and your girl's return to civilian life since early in 1940. These plans are in effect and operating now. The aim is that every person who has served shall have opportunity. Thousands, already back in civilian life, have benefited by training, by maintenance grants, by advice of departmental officials, and by the social security provisions. There is ample help for those men and women who want to help themselves.

When your boys and girls are discharged from the services, they will be given:

1. A clothing allowance of $100.00 (if discharged after August 1, 1944).
2. Their pay to date of discharge.
3. One month's additional pay, if they have 183 days' continuous service, as a rehabilitation grant.
4. A railway warrant home or to the place of enlistment.

On discharge, those enlisted to serve outside Canada, or those who served in the Aleutian Islands, are eligible for a war service gratuity. It provides $7.50 for each thirty days' service in Canada and the Western Hemisphere and $15.00 for each thirty days' service overseas or in the Aleutian Islands. For those with overseas service or with service in the Aleutian Islands, there is an additional seven days' pay and allowances for each six months of such service. Payments will be made at the end of each month in the months following discharge. Complete details of the war service gratuity will be given in a later advertisement.

In addition to the war service gratuity, there is a re-establishment credit of $7.50 for each thirty days' service in the Western Hemisphere and $15.00 for each thirty days' service overseas. This is for things such as the purchase or repair of a home, the buying of furniture, a business, or government life insurance, and for certain other purposes which will assist your boy or your girl in becoming re-established. This credit, which is reduced by grants given for training or education, or under the Veterans' Land Act, is primarily for those who do not wish assistance under these three plans.

If your boy or girl held a civilian position before enlisting, and was not engaged to replace somebody already in the forces, and if the position still exists, and your boy or girl is capable of filling it, it is the employer's duty, under the law of Canada, to reinstate him or her in that position with seniority. Application for reinstatement must be made to the former employer within three months of return from the forces or from hospital.

The surest way to permanent employment—the thing your boy or girl will want—is a skill to get and to hold a job. Canada's plans give opportunity to acquire needed skill either at university or in preparation for a business or industrial career. Fees are paid by the state, along with living allowances, while training or continuing education.

There is protection against illness or unemployment by maintenance allowances which can be drawn against in the first eighteen months after discharge. There is also protection under the Unemployment Insurance Act for those who enter insured employment and remain in it fifteen weeks.

There is provision to assist city and other workers to have homes of their own, either on small acreages of land outside the high taxation area, or in town, under the National Housing Act. Full-time farmers can be given financial assistance in full-time farming, while commercial fishermen may secure financial help in getting their own homes, on small acreages of land, and in buying needed fishing equipment.

In the year following discharge, service men and women are eligible for free treatment, hospitalization and allowances for any condition, even if not the result of service. Pensioners are entitled to this for life for their pensioned disability.

Canada's Pension Act is administered by an independent commission, all former members of the services. Any permanent disability suffered overseas, not a result of misconduct, is pensionable. Where service is in Canada only, the disability must be a result of service.

Walter P. Jeune Speaks to Gyros

Welsh-born Walter P. Jeune, one-time craftsman in gold leaf, yesterday spoke to the Gyro Club at a luncheon in the Empress Hotel. Manager of the Pantheon Dye Works, Mr. Jeune no longer follows his old trade, but he still reads and hobby. In his home town of Swansea, South Wales, Mr. Jeune spent seven years as an apprentice, learning the art of gilding, carving and picture restoring. In 1907 he came to Victoria.

"The beating of gold is an old trade, one practised for centuries," said Mr. Jeune. "Long before the building of the Pyramids, gold leaf was used in Assyrian and Babylonian buildings. Solomon's palaces were overlaid with gold leaf, and in the time of Moses it was considered an honorable trade."

Mr. Jeune said that gold leaf was 1,200 times thinner than a piece of paper. If waved in the air it would disintegrate, but laid on the outside of a building it would last many decades.

"Gold leaf has a hundred uses," he said, "some of which are signs on windows, mirror-frames, picture frames, deep carvings on castles and mansions, gilding furniture and tables, cupids, organ pipes, initials on handbags and even in days long gone by, gilding horses' harness and hooves."

He stated that a $5 gold-piece would make enough gold leaf to cover 5,000 square inches, and $5,000 worth would blanket an acre. Mr. Jeune explained that the same method is used now as was used in old Egyptian times with the identical type of block and hammer.

The hammer used for beating gold weighs 17 pounds and the gold is set on a granite block three feet into the ground for resistance. The ingots are alloyed with copper and silver before they are cast and beaten. He exhibited several little booklets of gold leaf which, he said, could be purchased in England for the equivalent of 32 cents.

Arbitration Board

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP)—Labor Minister G. S. Pearson said today that he would set up an arbitration board to clarify closed shop claims which Shipwrights, Joiners and Caulkers Industrial Union (C.C.I.) seeks to enforce in Burrard South yards and North Vancouver Ship Repair.

Today was the deadline when non-members of the union were to have been barred from the yards.

The 24-acre property on Ganges Hill belonging to Major Nation, Vancouver, and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. N. Hobbs for the past two years, has been sold to H. A. Mason, of Burnaby.

At the Theatres

Murder Mystery Is Now at Dominion

"You're invited to the House of Beauties where love and hate and jealousy walk hand in hand with murder."

That's the way the Dominion Theatre announces the arrival today of the Columbia murder mystery, "Nine Girls."

"Nine Girls" is one of the most gripping as well as amusing murder-comedies that has come to town in many a day. That perhaps is to be expected since it was adapted for the screen from a successful Broadway play of the same title. However, the transformation from one medium to the other has caused the play to suffer nothing.

Besides its tight and suspenseful plot, "Nine Girls" has a cast lush with blonde, not to mention brunette, beauty. Ann Harding leads a cast of younger players including Evelyn Keyes, Jim Falkenberg, Anita Louise, Lynn Merrick, Nina Poch and Leslie Brooks.

ATLAS Pistol packin' mama! Theatre Tote! Two great big guns, Judy Clark gives an hilarious rendition of the popular ballad in Columbia's new laugh-fest, "Beautiful But Broke," which ends tonight at the Atlas Theatre. Screwball Joan Davis plays the leading role in the gay comedy which was directed by Charles Barton.

CADET The three R's of Theatre moviemaking are present and accounted for in 20th Century-Fox, "Wintertime," is showing at the Cadet Theatre. The three R's stand for: Rhythm, Romance and Revelry. Woody Herman and his band, Jack Oakie and Cornel Wilde, in addition to Cesar Romero and Carole Landis, help Miss Henie to achieve these ends.

CADET "Uncertain Glory," Theatre which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre, is a mixture of suspenseful adventure, wry comedy and the dignity of human courage. Errol Flynn and Paul Lukas (Academy Award winner) co-star in Warner Bros.' production about a fugitive and his pursuer. Lovely young Jean Sullivan makes her screen debut in this picture.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA It was not by chance that Frank Puglia was cast as Susanna Foster's voice teacher in Universal's "This Is the Life," now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, with Miss Foster, Donald O'Connor and Peggy Ryan as its stars. In the story of "This Is the Life," Puglia successfully coaches the 19-year-old Susanna to a sensational concert debut in New York City.

THEATRE Universal's Paul Malvern Technicolor production, "All Baba and the Forty Thieves," now at the Rio Theatre, is Jon Hall—with a haircut, not since "The Invisible Agent" has Hal made a film on his home lot with a reasonably short tontorial topper. "Arabian Nights," "Tuttles of Tahiti," "White Savage" and "Cobra Woman" all required that familiar South Seas "long bob."

YORK Streets, buildings and Theatre places of amusement which have made the name of Hollywood famous throughout the world will be seen for the first time in their natural colors by moviegoers throughout the world in the Selznick International color picture, "A Star Is Born," now at the York Theatre, starring Janet Gaynor and Fredric March.

More Than Quarter-Million Trout "Planted" on Island

Maintaining the programme of restocking Vancouver Island lakes with trout, not only for the benefit of present-day fishermen but also for keeping trout fishing at a high level for postwar years, the Provincial Game Board has to statistics prepared for the 1943-44 season.

More than 15,000,000 trout fingerlings, fry and eggs have been planted in 348 lakes and streams throughout the province this year. The benefit of the programme is already being felt in improvement of fishing in lakes which had become depleted.

Restocking of lakes and streams with sport fish will continue to be one of the major undertakings of the government which is looking forward to the period when holidays cease and tourists come to British Columbia in search of good fishing in scenic surroundings.

Restocking has a double objective to meet the needs of British Columbia and to encourage tourist travel.

Warn Hunters to Avoid Explosion

Warning to hunters to stay away from the Mount Whymer area on Wednesday, when it is planned to explode four one-ton bombs, was given yesterday by Provincial Police, at the request of the R.C.N.

The four bombs were on a United States aircraft which crashed in the Youbou River and the south fork of the Nanaimo River, and were left there following salvage operations.

Provincial Police were advised yesterday by the R.C.N. that a party would go to the area Wednesday morning to detonate the bombs. It was planned to connect wires to them and run the wires around to the opposite side of the mountain so that they could be exploded in safety.

It was probable they would all explode at once, police were advised, and were a kind to warn hunters to avoid that vicinity.

Northcott's award was announced by Air Force Headquarters with two other D.S.O., two D.F.C. and two Distinguished Flying Medals for gallantry overseas.

Northcott won the new decoration for inspiring leadership in fighter operations over the Normandy beaches.

The recipients: D.S.O. Sqdn. Ldr. G. W. Northcott, of Minnesota, Man. Sqn. Ldr. H. T. Tilson, of Regina, Sask.

Sqdn. Ldr. D. J. Williams, of Vancouver.

Yugoslavs Given Valuable Supply

ROME, Sept. 25 (AP)—The Allied Air Command, lifting the veil of secrecy from one of its most carefully hidden operations, disclosed today that more than 8,000 tons of guns, ammunition and other supplies had been flown by the R.A.F. during the past two years in Yugoslavia's partisans and to patriots of other central and southern European countries.

Lights Here on "V" Day

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP)—Lighting restrictions in the Vancouver area will be lifted by the British Columbia Public Utilities Commission on "V" Day and for 36 hours immediately following, W. O. Murrin, president of the B.C. Electric Co., told city council utilities committee today.

"At the close of that period the restrictions will be resumed and will stay in effect until formally rescinded by the Public Utilities Commission at the end of a dangerous low water period," Mr. Murrin said.

RELIGION EDITION

WITH THE FIRST CANADIAN ARMY IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM, Sept. 25 (CP)—The Belgian edition of the "Maison Leif," Canadian Army newspaper for troops in the field, has made its first appearance in the tabloid form with which the Canadian soldiers in Italy and France are acquainted. The new "Edition Belgique" is published in Brussels daily by "Le Soir," whose management has refused to make any charge for the job of turning out 30,000 copies daily.

FLY 39,000 WOUNDED

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP)—The R.A.F. Transport Command announced today its planes have flown nearly 29,000 wounded soldiers from France and the Low Countries to Britain since "D" Day of the Normandy invasion without the loss of a single plane. Nearly a third of the casualties flown to British hospitals in the last three days have been members of American units.

FEDERAL APPOINTMENTS

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP)—Defence Minister, Ralston, today announced two executive appointments at National Defence Headquarters with Alexander Ross, 55, Ottawa, succeeding Lt.-Col. George S. Currie, Montreal, as deputy minister, and Col. B. B. S. Campbell, 54, Ottawa, succeeding Jack Pembroke, Montreal, as assistant deputy minister.

Huge Gains in Credit Account

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP)—Canadian total credits of $4,064,000,000 on current account with all countries last year were $1,205,000,000 higher than current debits of $2,859,000,000, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said tonight in a report on Canada's international economic

This credit balance compared with $1,101,000,000 in 1942, $491,000,000 in 1941 and $126,000,000 in 1939.

The bureau explained that the moderate increase in the credit balance in 1943 was due to a sharp increase in total debits as well as in credits, whereas in the earlier years of the war credits were expanding more rapidly than debits.

The increase in current payments to the sterling area, which exceeded the gain in credits in the same account, was particularly notable. Credits, debits and balance were at record levels and reflected the expansion in the Canadian economy with the export of war production to the many theatres of war.

Large parts of the credit balance in recent years do not give rise to any increases in Canadian assets abroad or decreases in Canadian liabilities abroad because of the nature of the balance of payments with the sterling area in recent years. External investments in Canada still exceed Canadian investments abroad by a very large margin.

The dominant characteristic of the balance of payments between Canada and the sterling area, a large excess of Canadian exports and other sources of balance of payments credits over imports and other debits, was again pronounced in 1943. But due to the sharp increase in the overseas expenditures of the Dominion Government in connection with the Canadian forces overseas the net credits on current account in 1943 were $1,216,000,000 compared with $1,205,000,000 in 1942, $305,000,000 in 1941, $419,000,000 in 1940 and $176,000,000 in 1939.

Total debits in the current account with Empire countries increased more sharply in 1943 than in any earlier year being $850,000,000 compared with $557,000,000 in 1942 and $326,000,000 in 1939.

Canada's current account with the United States dollar area was only brought relatively close to equilibrium, for the first time since 1937, and the current account with the United States dollar area's debit balance of $19,000,000 since large parts of the receipts of United States dollars were either on capital account or derived from transactions with other countries.

This small deficit in 1943 compared with deficits on current account with the United States of $180,000,000 in 1942 and $318,000,000 in 1941.

NAMED FOR FIELD MARSHAL

RAMSEY, Isle of Man (CP)—A bed to be endowed at the local hospital will be named after Field Marshal Sir Bernard Montgomery.

Dolan Suggests Tourist Bureau

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 25 (CP)—An enlarged and more adequate Canadian Government Travel Bureau with a skilled editorial division, was suggested here today by D. Leo Dolan, present chief of the bureau.

Speaking to delegates attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Tourist Bureau, Mr. Dolan said he had a plan which would expand present services to bring Canadian attractions and a knowledge of Canada before an increasing number of prospective visitors.

"The Dominion must face this duty or lose out in the highly competitive bidding for the tourist dollar," he said.

Following discussion, the committee suggested that a minimum of $750,000 be sought for tourist promotion from the Federal Government.

TEACHERS TAKE COURSE

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (CP)—Forty primary school teachers of Trinidad and six members of the Caribbean forces have completed a 21-day course in agriculture. The course, a new plan for spreading agricultural knowledge in the island, was arranged by the education and agricultural departments.

BIG TASK COMING

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 25 (CP)—Prime Minister Curtin in a nation-wide broadcast tonight said "the war in the Pacific has still to become an all-out effort," and added that "as a result of the plans for the defeat of Japan drawn up at Quebec Australia's wartime task may be trebled."

these TWO go together!

YOU can't have one without the other... you can't share in the Victory unless you are ready and willing to take your place with the boys who are earning it. The fight is overseas—in the face of the enemy—and you must be an overseas soldier to get into it. So get that GS badge on your arm right away.

There's still time—and there's a place for you in the Canadian Army—for all the young men who want to be fighting soldiers. And when you come home again you'll be one of the boys to lead the Victory Parade. Join up now... and go GS!
